What will we discuss?

✓ Overall Rules – keeping us straight!
  – FOIA meeting and document rules
  – City rules
  – Robert’s Rules
  – Conflicts of interest
The Virginia Freedom of Information Act (or FOIA) has two main components.
- Laws related to citizen access to public records.
- Laws related to citizen access to meetings of public bodies.

The Act is found under Code of Virginia § 2.2-3700 through 2.2-3715.
What are public records?

- “[A]ll writings and recordings . . . regardless of physical form or characteristics, prepared or owned by, or in the possession of a public body or its officers, employees or agents in the transaction of public business.”
What is a public body?

- “[A]ny legislative body, authority, board, bureau, commission, district or agency . . . of any political subdivision of the Commonwealth, including cities, . . . municipal councils, . . . and planning commissions; . . . and other organizations, corporations or agencies in the Commonwealth supported wholly or principally by public funds.”
- “It shall include . . . any committee, subcommittee, or other entity however designated, of the public body created to perform delegated functions of the public body or to advise the public body.”
- “It shall not exclude any such committee, subcommittee or entity because it has private sector or citizen members.”
Under FOIA what are the City’s general obligations related to public records?

- To retain records related to the public business for the required retention period.
- And to provide those records for inspection upon request by a citizen.
Under FOIA what are the obligations of board members related to public records?

- You must retain all records related to the business of the board.
- Any record that is not maintained by or provided to you by staff.
- Examples
  - Dockets and applications
  - Emails
  - Letters
What is a meeting of a public body?
- A meeting is defined as “. . . when sitting physically, or through electronic communication means pursuant to § 2.2-3708.2 or 2.2-3708.3, as a body or entity, or as an informal assemblage of (i) as many as three members . . . of the constituent membership, wherever held, with or without minutes being taken, whether or not votes are cast, of any public body.”
Under FOIA, what are the obligations of board members related to public meetings?

- Any gathering of 3 or more members of the board is a meeting, if the members are discussing board business.
- In order to hold a meeting under FOIA the following requirements must be met.
  - Public notice must be provided three working days prior to the meeting
  - The information being provided to the members must be made available to the public
  - The meeting must be open to the public
  - Minutes of the meeting must be prepared
FOIA

Meetings – Physical Assembly

- Generally, FOIA requires the physical assembly of the members and remote participation is prohibited.
  - This means no meetings by conference telephone calls, video-conferencing, or other electronic communications.

- Under certain conditions, FOIA allows public bodies to meet through electronic communication means via:
  - Remote participation by individual members
  - An all-virtual public meeting
  - A declared state of emergency
Remote Participation by Individual Members
- Provides limited ability for one or more members who cannot attend a meeting due to i) temporary or permanent disability, ii) personal medical condition, iii) family member’s medical condition, iv) the member’s principal residence is more than 60 miles from the meeting location, or iv) a personal matter to attend a meeting electronically in compliance with the policy
- Participation due to “personal matter” is limited to up to two meetings or 25 percent of meetings held per calendar year
- Meeting must still occur in person and have a quorum
- Board or Commission must have previously adopted the electronic participation policy and comply with policy
- Allows participation in the meeting to include participation in discussion and voting
All-Virtual Meetings

- Limited ability for most public bodies to hold all-virtual public meetings, provided that the public body has adopted an electronic participation policy and follows the requirements enumerated in Code of Virginia § 2.2-3708.3(C), including:
  - Notice indicates the meeting will be all-virtual
  - Public access is provided via electronic communication means
  - Limited in each calendar year to either two (2) meetings or 25% of the meetings held rounded up to the next whole number, whichever is greater
  - Cannot be held consecutively with another all-virtual meeting
- Does not apply to the city council, school board, planning commission, architectural review, board of zoning appeals, or boards with the authority to deny, revoke, or suspend a professional or occupational license
Form of Electronic Communication
- This rule is applicable to other forms of electronic communications, including chat rooms, instant messaging, texting, etc.
- The rule means that the closer in time that electronic communications are sent and responded to by 3 or more members of the board, the more likely that a meeting could be found.
- In order to avoid problems, it is advisable:
  - To NOT reply all to emails
  - To NOT respond to or email more than one other board member at a time
  - Alternatively, if you have something you would like to say to the entire board, then you can always wait to and say it at the next board meeting
Social events

- Three or more members may attend social events and converse with one another, so long as:
  - No part of the event involves the discussion of public business and
  - The gathering was not planned for that purpose.
No vote of any kind of the board shall be taken to authorize the transaction of any public business, other than a vote taken at a meeting conducted in accordance with the provisions of FOIA.

No public body shall vote by secret or written ballot.
Public bodies may only hold closed meetings for the purposes set out in Code of Virginia § 2.2-3711(A).

Generally, closed meetings should be done only after consultation with the City Attorney’s and/or Clerk’s Office.

Some of the purposes include:
- Certain specific personnel matters
- Discussion of the acquisition or disposition of public property
- Protection of individual privacy in a personal matter not related to the public business
- Discussions of the negotiation or award of a contract involving the expenditure of public funds, when public discussion would jeopardize the public body’s bargaining position
- Investment of public funds through competition or bargaining, if disclosure would have an adverse financial impact
- Consultation with legal counsel or briefings by staff about litigation or other specific matters requiring legal advice
- Discussion or consideration of medical and mental health records excluded from disclosure under FOIA

In no event may any public body take action on matters discussed in any closed meeting.

Before and after a closed meeting, there are statutory requirements regarding certification of the events that occurred in the closed meeting.
What happens when the City does not comply with FOIA?

- A single violation of FOIA is enough to trigger the following remedies.
  - If the court finds the denial to be in violation of the provisions of FOIA, the petitioner shall be entitled to recover reasonable costs, including costs and reasonable fees for expert witnesses, and attorneys’ fees from the public body if the petitioner substantially prevails on the merits of the case.
  - Any failure by a public body to follow the procedures established by FOIA shall be presumed to be a violation.
  - A court, if it finds that a violation was willfully and knowingly made, may impose upon such employee, officer, or member of a public body a civil penalty of not less than $500 nor more than $2,000. For a second or subsequent violation, such civil penalty shall be not less than $2,000 nor more than $5,000.

Conflict of interest laws applicable to board members include the State and Local Government Conflict of Interests Act (Act) and certain provisions of the City’s Code of Ordinances.

- Act is found under Code of Virginia § 2.2-3100 through 2.2-3132.
- City Ordinances are at City Code § 3-3-121 through 3-3-133.
What are the obligations of board members with regard to conflicts of interest?

- The Code of Virginia and City Code are not codes of ethics but instead merely sets minimum standards of conduct with respect to the interests of board members.
- They do not protect against all appearances of improper influence.
- Instead, they place the burden on the individual board member to evaluate whether the facts presented create an appearance of impropriety that is unacceptable or that could affect the confidence of the public in the ability of the board member to be impartial.
What conduct is prohibited under the Act?

- No board member may accept money or any other thing of value or take other advantages based upon his position as a member of the board.
- Members cannot have a “personal interest” in a “contract” or “transaction.”
  - A “personal interest” is a financial benefit or liability accruing to a board member or to a member of his immediate family.
  - A “contract” is any agreement to which the City is a party or any agreement on behalf of a City that involves the payment of money appropriated by the City.
  - A “transaction” is any matter considered by the board on which official action is taken or contemplated.
What conduct is prohibited under the City Code?

- Participation in procurement transactions is proscribed under a variety of circumstances.
  - A procurement transaction means “[a]ll functions that pertain to the obtaining of any goods, services or construction, including description of requirements, selection and solicitation of sources, preparation and award of contract and all phases of contract administration.”
  - Participants in a procurement transaction cannot accept or solicit gifts.
  - Participants in a procurement transaction must take certain steps if they desire to take a job with a contractor or potential contractor.
  - Since the question of whether a conflict of interest exists is fact specific, it is advisable to contact the City Attorney’s Office related to a particular situation.
