

Children, Youth, and Families Collaborative Commission - A Snapshot

The background of the slide features a series of overlapping, flowing waves in shades of orange and red. The waves originate from the left side and curve upwards and to the right, creating a sense of movement and depth. The colors transition from a bright orange on the left to a deeper red on the right, with various intermediate shades in between.

Maximizing our Impact:

Core Responsibilities for CYFCC Members

The effectiveness of the CYFCC rests on the active commitment and engagement of every member. We require dedication across four critical areas to ensure we fulfill our mission:

Sustained Attendance: Demonstrate reliable engagement by attending at least 75% of all scheduled meetings annually. This continuous presence is vital for maintaining continuity and ensuring full representation in the decision-making process.

Strategic Preparation: Commit to thorough review of all materials beforehand. Arrive prepared to meetings, ready to contribute informed insights and participate effectively in strategic discussions.

Active Contribution: Drive the Council's work forward by serving on a standing committee. Dedicating your expertise to a focused area helps us deliver tangible progress on critical priorities.

Leadership & Advocacy: Actively champion the Children and Youth Community Plan (CYCP) goals within your personal and professional networks. We expect all members to operate with a spirit of collaboration and a clear, shared purpose, turning the Council's vision into real-world impact.

Voting Members vs. Non-Voting Members

- 15 members = quorum when there are no vacant positions
- 25 voting members: citizens, city staff, ACPS staff.
- 17 citizen appointees, 4 city, 4 ACPS employees.
- 4 non-voting liaisons: 2 City Council, 2 School Board.
- Volunteers vote only in committee work.
- All voices shape Commission outcomes.

Members of the staff of city or schools who believe they have a conflict in performing tasks that advocate directly (such as testimony, op-eds, letters, etc.) should not be assigned to an active advocacy role (or be a member of the de facto Advocacy Committee), as each Commissioner should be willing and able to fulfill his or her role on a Goal Committee.*

How We Work:

Committees in Action

- Committees, based on the Children and Youth Community Plan, that power the CYFCC's work.
- Goal Groups | Advocacy & Policy | Finance & Grants.

- Goal Groups ensure follow-through and accountability.
- Staff and volunteers expand capacity.

Potential Process Improvement

Develop work groups aligned to the three priorities (violence prevention, cost of living, and school conditions) to enable commissioner participation and deepen engagement .

- These work groups will extend open invitations to all commissioners and allow flexible involvement based on availability

- The approach aims to balance meaningful participation with commissioners' varying time commitments.
