Presentations: Catherine Clinger and Meredith Forbes from GG2 introduced the Guest Speakers related to the topic of Out of School Time:

Guest Speakers –

- 1) Hjarman Cordero, Executive Director and Katherine Posada Mebreno, Director of Elementary Leadership, Casa Chirilagua (CC)
  - Children, youth, and families from across the community are referred to their services
    - Kids Club (grade 1-5) – tutoring, SEL, spiritual development

- Connecting kids to services—IEP, MTSS, etc.
- Challenges include
  - Supporting families who have come from Central America as they adjust to the US
    - Average income of a CC family is $45K
  - Housing, employment, language, social distribution of goods
    - Housing is one of the biggest challenges
      - Many in need of rental assistance
  - Food distribution
  - Healthcare
    - Sickness, health issues leads to absences, students may not have access to healthcare
- Serve a very high rate of young single mothers
- Good partnership with Mount Vernon principal, who helps connect them to students, school-service connection
  - Mt. Vernon Elementary School helping CC develop a system for behavioral/emotional health based on what is used in the school
  - Supporting students involved in drugs, alcohol, gang activity
- Many parents are concerned about their children's safety with the incoming administration
  - CC looking to develop a plan alongside parents that will help support student mental health, help to alleviate fear
  - Reassuring parents that CC is a safe space

2) Ana Bonilla, Laura Funes-Quinones, and youth from Youth in Progress (YIP)

- Latino-based, but not Latino-exclusive program
- Post-pandemic, there were high levels of disengagement and absenteeism primarily among Latino males
  - Created a soccer program that also provides afterschool tutoring, career development, parent connection
- Our programs should not just be “checkmarks”—they should be genuinely engaging the youth. A program that they believe in, that they care about being involved in.
- Theory:
  - Once there is a connection to a trusted adult, academics will improve
  - Goal is that 80% of program participants pass English, math
- 2023-24 data show that
  - Grades improved for students active in the program
  - Feelings of safety, belonging, and academic success improved
- YIP students shared their stories
- YIP is powered by donations—please send food, join as a volunteer, etc.
  - YIP is not a 501c3. They are a program at the school, but don't receive set funding. PTA offers some grants, but it's not enough.

3) James Parker, Executive Director for Athletic and Student Activities at ACPS

- Recently launched middle school sports program
  - Provide a safe space, positive influences for young people
  - To get young people involved in sports earlier
- High school offers ~20 different sports
- Offering all of this costs money

- Overall, the community is good at asking for funding for sports
  - Local businesses also support sports
- Being involved in athletics support academic success
  - Also good for community, positive connections, etc.

4) Roberto Gomez, Executive Director for Cornerstone Craftsman

- Pre-apprenticeship program serving kids 12-17
  - Received 501c3 status in October
  - Don't say "at-risk"—"strategically undervalued" !
  - Also works with court services and families for those transitioning out of justice-involvement
- Program has 95% retention rate
- Accepts donations that support including more young people in the program, compensation, etc.

Questions?

- CC mentioned health issues for some students involved—how can CYFCC help?
  - Mental health
  - Homes are not safe—insulation, etc.
  - Poor nutrition—they may get food, but it's not a balanced diet
  - In terms of athletics—why is the soccer field in Four Mile Run park always locked? There are not a lot of green spaces for these kids. Soccer is an activity that is really popular for this community, and they don't have access to it.
  - Lack of trees in the communities where these young people live—poor air quality. This leads to many of the students and adults having upper respiratory problems
  - Some parents don't take kids to the doctors, because they can't take the time off from work
  - We need support for the families overall
- If Santa came early, what would he bring under your tree? (ie, what is one thing you would ask of us?)
  - YIP: Field trip money so YIP can go to the ropes course! More reliable funding
  - ACPS Athletics: Exposure—all the kids in ALX could be exposed to sports a little earlier, so that when they get to high school, they have that identity, that background
  - CC: Needs to replace the old carpets in the center (environmental health!), new tables in the center
  - Cornerstone: Get YIP whatever they need!

Next Month

- Caitlin Brown, Executive Director of Alexandria Beyond the Classroom (formerly Youth Support Network)
  - Every youth in ALX has access to equitable, meaningful out of school time programs
- Presenting to CYFCC on the 8th

Social Media

- If anyone is interested in helping with CYFCC's social media posts, please reach out to Trinady (trinadymaddock@gmail.com), or email Noraine, noraine.buttar@alexandriava.gov

Announcements

- New AI policy should be shared with the school board in the next few months
