The following is intended to help a pro se litigant file for an uncontested divorce.

If you choose to proceed without the help of a competent attorney, you might unknowingly give up certain important rights. Many of these rights cannot be claimed later if not addressed as part of your final decree of divorce. Therefore, you are strongly encouraged to consult with an attorney about your individual situation so that you fully understand both your rights and future obligations before any final decree is entered by the Court.

Sample forms are included in this document.

They are only SAMPLES and may or may not apply to your particular circumstances. You are responsible for ensuring that the documents you file meet all the statutory requirements applicable to your individual circumstances. There is no substitute for the personalized legal advice that you may receive from a competent attorney.

DO NOT ASK COURT PERSONNEL FOR LEGAL ADVICE.

Court personnel are prohibited by state law from providing legal advice or assistance on how to complete documents.

CHAPTER 6

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (“FAQs”)

1. DOCUMENTS NEEDED: What documents do I need to file for an uncontested divorce?
 - (a) Certain documents are required regardless of whether you are proceeding under the grounds of six-month or one-year separation (Cover Sheet, Complaint, Proof of Service, VS-4 Form, Privacy Addendum, and Final Decree).
 - (b) Other documents are required depending on whether your spouse is in the military (Waiver of Rights Under the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act), if you are proceeding on the grounds of six-month separation (Property Settlement Agreement signed by both parties), or if you are proceeding with an Ore Tenus Hearing or by Affidavit.
 - (c) Depending on how your spouse is served you may also need to file proof of Notice.
 - (d) If either party is seeking restoration of their former/maiden name you must ask for this in the Complaint and a separate Order of Name Change must be filed. Each situation is unique and you are responsible for filing all required documents.
2. TIME ESTIMATE: How long does an affidavit divorce take?
 - (a) It depends. Once all the documents have been filed it can take up to six (6) weeks to review but this is contingent on how service was made on your spouse and the availability of court staff to review the documents. Uncontested divorces are reviewed in the order in which they are received. If you are proceeding with Service by Publication, you must wait an additional four (4) weeks for the publication to run and the date for your spouse to respond must pass before the judge can sign the Final Decree.
 - (b) If all your documents are correct, your case will be presented to a judge. The Final Decree and other orders (if any) will likely be entered within a week.
 - (c) If you need corrections, the process will take longer subject to how quickly you file your corrected documents and the availability of court staff to review them. Corrected documents are reviewed in the order in which they are received.
 - (d) DO NOT set your case for a Motions Day, the Final Decree cannot be entered at a Motions Day hearing. Your matter will be removed if set for a Motions Day.
3. AFFIDAVIT OF PLAINTIFF IN SUPPORT OF DIVORCE
 - (a) Is required only for those persons who do not wish to proceed with an in-person hearing.
 - (b) Is not required to be filed if you are proceeding with an Ore Tenus In-Person Court hearing.
4. CORRECTIONS. What if I need to file corrections?
 - (a) If you need to file corrections court staff will contact you.
 - (b) You must submit new documents (you cannot edit the documents that were originally filed).
 - (c) All information must be consistent across all documents (e.g., the date of separation, date of marriage, etc. must be the same across all the documents).
5. CORRECTIONS. How do I correct my Complaint?
 - (a) In Virginia, you must have leave of court to file an Amended Complaint.
 - (b) If your Complaint needs to be corrected, you must file three (3) documents:
 - (1) Amended Complaint (correcting the issue)
 - (2) Motion to Amend Complaint for Divorce
 - (3) Leave to Amend Order

6. DATE OF SEPARATION. What is the date of separation?
- (a) The date of separation is when the parties started living separate and apart and intended that separation to be permanent.
 - (b) The separation period is the minimum period of time that must have passed before the Complaint for Divorce can be filed in the Clerk's office. DO NOT FILE TOO SOON or your case will be dismissed.
 - (c) The separation period is either
 - a. Six-months with no minor children and a signed Property Settlement Agreement; or
 - b. One-year with or without minor children and with or without a signed Property Settlement Agreement.
 - (d) MINOR CHILDREN If the parties have minor children born or adopted of the marriage, the law requires that the Complaint for Divorce be filed after the parties have been separated for at least one year. Virginia Code § 20-91(A)(9)(a).
7. FILING TOO SOON. What if I file before my separation period has passed?
- (a) You must wait until AFTER the separation period has passed BEFORE you file the Complaint in the Clerk's office (Room 307).
 - (b) The separation period is either
 - (1) Six-months with no minor children and a signed Property Settlement Agreement; or
 - (2) One-year with or without minor children and with or without a signed Property Settlement Agreement.
 - (c) If you file too soon your case will be dismissed and you will have to file a new Complaint after the separation period has passed and pay a new filing fee.
8. GROUND FOR DIVORCE. What are the grounds for divorce?
- (a) An uncontested divorce will be either on the grounds of six-month or one-year separation.
 - (b) "Irreconcilable differences" is not an acceptable ground.
9. NAME CHANGE. What if I want to restore my former/maiden name?
