Question:

What would be the additional revenue be from changing the parking violation fines from the suggested $50 to $55?

Response:

The proposed change increases the standard parking citation from $40 to $50, which is projected to generate approximately $900,000 in additional annual revenue, assuming approximately 90,000 citations annually. The planning assessment assumes that each $5 increase in the citation fine generates approximately $450,000 in additional annual revenue.
