

WPWG Email Communication Regarding the Waterfront Committee Plan Principles

On September 28, 2011, Nate Macek Wrote:

Dear Task Force Members:

I made a couple of references today to the Waterfront Committee's Waterfront Plan principles, which were adopted as the Waterfront Plan-making process was kicking off in May 2009. I see a parallel between many of the recommendations in this document and the Work Group's current task of identifying policy/issue area statements. Therefore, I am providing this draft for your reference. It is also posted online at:

http://alexandriava.gov/uploadedFiles/recreation/info/FinalApprovedWaterfrontPlanPrinciples_5_19_09.pdf

The Committee subsequently applied these principles in June 2010 to develop a detailed critique of the initial draft of the plan (posted here: <http://alexandriava.gov/uploadedFiles/recreation/info/WaterfrontPlanLetterJune2010.pdf>). The principles have served as the basis for guidance to the Planning Commission and City Council this past spring, and in the Committee's Waterfront Plan position statement, which I provided last week. This approach is similar to how I understand the Work Group will apply its policy/issue area statements.

I hope you find this information useful. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,

Nate Macek

On September 28, 2011, Sherry Schiller Wrote:

Nate,

Thanks for taking the time to share this with the working group. I am sure the group will benefit from reviewing the documents produced by The Waterfront Committee as we prepare to draft our own report.

Sherry

Sherry Schiller, Ph.D.

President, Schiller Center