

How & Where Youth Live, Learn & Play Matters

Join the Alexandria Campaign on Adolescent Pregnancy (ACAP) for a FREE Training!

How and where youth live, learn and play matters – we know social determinants of health are mostly responsible for health inequities and disparities. We cannot expect to significantly impact health outcomes without considering the full range of factors such as access to quality education and health services, socioeconomic status, or having life goals and aspirations that shape our long-term physical, mental, emotional, and social health and well-being.

Youth 360° is the frame Healthy Teen Network has developed to make it easier to talk about and understand the importance of the social determinants and a holistic approach to health promotion. Join us for a FREE training to explore this framework on Wednesday, Nov. 4, 5:30 – 8 p.m. at T.C. Williams High School in the Rotunda. Dinner will be provided. Please register by November 1.
