

STORMWATER UTILITY FEE

In May 2017, the City of Alexandria adopted a Stormwater Utility Fee to fund the City's Stormwater Management Program, including Chesapeake Bay cleanup mandates. Because the Stormwater Utility Fee shifts stormwater management costs to the properties with greater impact on stormwater runoff and requires all properties to pay, the fee funds stormwater management more equitably than by raising the real estate tax.

This is not a bill

The Stormwater Utility Fee is billed as a separate line item on the real estate tax bill per City Ordinance Sec. 5-6 and City Ordinance 5-6-230, et. seq., and consistent with the Code of Virginia §15.2-2114. In May, all property owners will be billed for half of the Stormwater Utility Fee as a separate line item on the real estate tax bill, with the next half of the annual fee billed in October. Properties who do not pay tax receive a bill for just the stormwater utility fee. If payment is not made by the property owner's bank or mortgage company, information on payment methods for the real estate tax bill is available at alexandriava.gov/Payments.

How Your Fee Is Determined

Single-family residential property owners are billed flat fees based on the types of property they own. The fees for nonresidential and multifamily properties are billed based on each property's total impervious area. Impervious area includes only hard surfaces on which rain falls. This exterior impervious area is viewed from above the property and includes hard surfaces such as driveways and roofs, which don't allow rain or snow melt to soak into the ground. Impervious area is different from the floor area or interior square footage of a home or other building.

First-Half 2020 Stormwater Utility Fees due June 15, 2021, and Second-Half Due October 15, 2021.

The estimated fee is based on the adopted Fiscal Year 2020 Stormwater Utility Fee, which is reviewed annually and set by City Council to be effective on July 1 each year. The actual second-half 2020 fees will reflect the adopted Fiscal Year 2021 Stormwater Utility Fees.

This deadline is expected to be approximately June 15, 2020. Forms are available online at alexandriava.gov/3876. Grounds for appeal are limited to those in Section 5-6-238 of the adopted ordinance. City Council does not hear Stormwater Utility Fees appeals.
