RMRP: Landlord Program

The Virginia Rent and Mortgage Relief Program (RMRP): Landlord Program is designed to support and ensure housing stability across the Commonwealth during the coronavirus pandemic.

This program allows landlords or their authorized agents to apply directly to Virginia Housing for eligible rent relief on behalf of their tenants.

RMRP: Tenant Program

The Department of Housing and Community Development is administering the Rental Mortgage Relief Program: Tenant Program.

This program allows a tenant to apply for rental assistance through identified providers throughout the Commonwealth.

For more information on the tenant program visit, <https://www.dhcd.virginia.gov/rmrp>.

Keep in Mind

- Households may participate in the tenant program or landlord program but cannot participate in both programs.
 - If a tenant is already working with a non-profit agency in the tenant program, continue that process.
 - Landlords with tenants that have not received assistance can apply through Virginia Housing's RMRP Landlord Program.
