

SCOTT ANDES

Senior Policy Analyst and Associate Fellow, Anne T. and Robert M. Bass Initiative on Innovation and Placemaking

Scott Andes is a senior policy analyst and associate fellow at the Anne T. and Robert M. Bass Initiative on Innovation and Placemaking, a part of the Centennial Scholar Initiative at the Brookings Institution. His work focuses on urban innovation policy and technology transfer and commercialization strategies. Prior to joining Brookings, he was a research analyst at the Information Technology and Innovation Foundation where he authored and co-authored reports on innovation and domestic economic policy. His work has been cited in the New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, CNN, NPR, and elsewhere. Andes received a B.S. from the London School of Economics and a M.S. from Carnegie Mellon University.

Brookings Publications

- Health Information Technology: What Role for Nashville? \(forthcoming\)
- How Firms Learn: industry specific strategies for urban economies
- Advanced Industries: What they are, where they are, why they matter
- Going Local: Connecting the National Labs to their Regions to Maximize Innovation and Growth
- Cracking the Code on STEM: A People Strategy for Nevada's Economy
- Drive! Moving the Tennessee's Automotive Sector Up the Value Chain