XIII. Adjournment (9:30pm)
Heard. An arts program for silent stories.
Because everyone deserves to be heard.

What it is

Heard teaches life skills disguised as art to Alexandria and Arlington nonprofit program partners serving clients who are homeless, transitioning from homelessness, incarcerated, survivor of domestic violence, immigrant/refugee, in need of a second chance, or marginalized in some way.

Heard began in 2017 and is provided free to program partners and their voluntary clients. We offer clients a safe and trust-based environment to express themselves. Each program includes classes at the nonprofit site, with the class length and duration determined with the nonprofit partner. A typical program includes up to 12 students and runs 4-6 weeks for 1 ½ - 2 hours in length, although some programs are one-time events.

Heard currently offers programs in creative writing (fiction and non-fiction), poetry, visual arts, improv and public speaking. These programs are designed to offer our clients creative expression, an opportunity to be heard, recognized and honored, and to build an environment of trust and safety for the participants.

Heard is a program of the Del Ray Community Partnership nonprofit (EIN 453185362) and is funded privately and through donations.

Heard was created by Jane Hess Collins, an Alexandria resident and retired colonel, United States Air Force. She is a communications consultant and holds a masters’ degree in public relations and corporate communications from Georgetown University.

How it works

Heard gives marginalized adults the opportunity to be heard under the guidance of professional artists experienced in working with at-risk adults. Heard honors these artists by offering a stipend for their leadership. Classes include a review of class guidelines, including respect for each other and each other’s work and offering positive feedback to each other, warm-up exercises, prompts, instruction and exercises, feedback, small group and individual work opportunities to share and discuss, and other support if requested by the student. The program gives students the freedom to share their art if they wish. Verbal sharing is always an option, but it is ultimately up to the student to decide to share.

Heard designs programs based on the nonprofit partner’s objectives, and gives program partners the opportunity to showcase successes in reports and grant writing.
In addition to the creative outlet offered to clients, Heard programs help clients develop:
- Confidence in themselves as they learn to shape their own stories as they gain control over their situation
- Increased decision-making skills as they learn focus through fine-tuning their stories
- Increased empathy as they listen to other students' stories. These listening skills help clients to learn focus and shape their own stories
- New skills to apply to life decisions
- Inspiration to live independently, move forward in their lives and fulfill goals they have established for themselves

Heard is an arts program, not a therapy program, and we are not trained to handle a student who becomes extremely stressed. Since creative arts may prompt traumatic memories for any participant, we ask that a therapist, case worker, or trained nonprofit partner staff ensure that that clients are emotionally prepared to participate in the program.

Heard clients must be able to speak, read and write in English at the fourth-grade level. We do not offer transportation or child care.

Donations and More Information

All donations will be used for art supplies and teacher-artist stipends. Checks should be made out to “Del Ray Community Partnership” with “Heard” in the memo line, and mailed to:

Testimonials

"From reading some of the stories, I was able to tell the participants put a great deal of effort into the material they wanted to present. Once the competition ended, I received several requests for the program to return.

"A number of inmates expressed to me how being able to express their thoughts through this format, they were able to get things off their mind that had been bothering them since being incarcerated. I also had inmates to approach me, just recently, to ask if another writing program was coming back. I am just as excited to see these type programs come to our facility as the inmates. Jane was a pleasure to work with and I look forward to her return."

Gloria Wright, Alternative Programs Manager, Alexandria Detention Center

"The HEARD program is a wonderful complement to TWB’s [Together We Bake] curriculum of empowerment and life skills. Providing women an opportunity to share their stories through art is incredibly empowering. We have also had HEARD activities for our alumni team members and it has been a fun, bonding experience for all involved. The instructors are passionate about their craft and their compassion for women in need is inspiring. We are so grateful for HEARD!"

Stephanie Wright, Co-founder and Executive Director, Together We Bake

"We have been working with Heard since close to its inception I believe. We were thrilled when Jane first approached us and offered to work with our residents (women coming out of jail and prison who live in our transitional housing program for 6 months). Heard’s teachers are professional and from many disciplines, but all share the same desire to make a difference in creative and impactful ways in the lives of others. The women in our program have come to look forward to any class that is offered by Heard and the level of instruction is superior!"

Kari Galloway, Executive Director, Friends of Guest House
“The Heard Organization has benefited Friends of Guest House by providing resourceful courses to our women. Heard has come in and turned a lot of women lives around who didn’t believe in the talents they possessed. This organization has provided a variety of classes from Poetry, Improv, Writing and Visual Art classes. Our women have turned a new leaf from attending these courses. They are now able to express their feelings in different forms of positive expressions. Heard has created a positive atmosphere and space where many of our women can show their creativity.”

Keba Baptiste, Workforce and Life Development Coordinator, Friends of Guest House

“I didn’t know that Poetry can be so much fun and bring a different perspective into my life. Since attending that class I am now able to analyze a poems and also I began to write poetry myself.”

RE: BURKE LIBRARY PROJECT PLAN

Background:
Alexandria’s Public Art Implementation Plan, adopted in 2014, outlined a vision and goals for the public art program and established three Creative Directions for its work: Time and Place, Neighborhood Identity, and Natural and Urban Systems. The Neighborhoods and Gathering Spaces creative direction calls for public art that can help to create images and places that can explore the complexity of the neighborhoods throughout the city and build stronger connections between people and communities.

Discussion
Public art at Burke Library will be the first public art collaboration with the Alexandria Public Library and the first library to have commissioned public art on site. Additionally, the site will provide an opportunity to place public art in an diverse area that currently does not have any City public art.

In accordance with the Public Art Implementation Plan, the attached Program Plan outlines the format, goals, outputs, timeline, artist selection process, budget, and evaluation for the first of the three residencies. This Plan helps to provide the framework for staff and the task force to carry out the project.

Staff Recommendation
Staff recommends the Arts Commission approve the Project Plan for the Burke Library.

I. Introduction
The City of Alexandria’s Public Art Implementation Plan outlined a vision and goals for the public art program and established three Creative Directions: Time and Place, Neighborhoods & Gathering Spaces, and Natural and Urban Systems.

The Plan also sets out a process for the commissioning of new public art. For each project approved in the Annual Public Art Work Plan, the Commission for the Arts appoints a Public Art Project Task Force to advise on the entire project development process. The staff and the Project Task Force develop a Project Plan that sets out the project goals, artist selection process, budget, timeline and communications strategy. The Project Task Force then selects an artist, through a process set out in the Project Plan. The artist develops a concept, which is then approved by the Project Task Force and the Commission for the Arts.

This document is the Project Plan for public art at Burke Branch Library.

II. Site and Context

About the City of Alexandria
Alexandria, Virginia is a small historic seaport city of about 150,000 residents located on the Potomac River, minutes from Washington, D.C. It is best known for its historic Old Town but is also home to federal agencies such as the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office, the Defense Department and the headquarters of the National Science Foundation.

About Alexandria Library
The Alexandria Library Company was founded on July 24, 1794. The Company operated as a subscription library, with members paying for access to its collections, for over 100 years.

In the 20th century, Alexandria would open its first public library. In 1937, The Alexandria Library Company then signed an agreement with the Alexandria City Council turning over its collections to the City of Alexandria. The City agreed to include operating expenses for the public library in its budget and a new era commenced.

About the Ellen Coolidge Burke Branch Library
In 1948 Ellen Coolidge Burke was appointed Director of Alexandria Library after working in the library for almost ten years as a cataloger and reference librarian. She was responsible for bringing one of the state’s first book mobile services to the city.

The Ellen Coolidge Burke Branch Library (Burke Library) opened in 1968 and is located at 4701 Seminary Road in Alexandria, Virginia near the entrance/exit to Interstate 395 at the northeast corner of Seminary Road and Library Lane. It is named for long-standing library director Ellen Coolidge Burke and was developed by architects Murray & Associates. The library was closed to the public in 2000 and reopened in 2002 after public demand. Currently, the library is located on the upper level of the building which sits at grade with Seminary Road.

The library serves as an important community space for West End residents and as well as an important resource for students at the Francis C. Hammond Middle School located directly across Seminary Road. The area around the library is a mix of commercial and residential areas and serves almost 100,000 visitors per year. Burke Library has an annual circulation of over 125,000 borrowed materials and offers over 180 youth programs and over 270 adult programs.

III. Goals
The Alexandria Public Art Program is interested in commissioning artists to create a site-specific, permanent work of art for Burke Branch Library.

The program goals of the Burke Branch Library public art project are to:

• Make the library more visible from Seminary Road.
• Celebrate Burke Library as a gathering space to build stronger connections between people and their community.
• Have the library become a landmark for the west end.
• Bring a new work of art to Alexandria that is informed by the context of the site.

IV. Selection Process
For the Burke Branch Library project, the Office of the Arts will issue a national call for artists. Three artists will be selected and given the opportunity to come to Alexandria and visit Burke Library, meet with staff, and interview with the Task Force.

Burke Branch Library Task Force
The Burke Branch Library Task Force helps shape the Project Plan for the project and recommends selection of artist(s) and approval of concept(s).

The two Commission for the Arts representatives on the Task Force are:

• Catherine Barrett
• Brian Kelley
• Matthew Stensrud (ex-officio)

The Community Stakeholders for the Task Force include:

• Shirley Downs

Project Stakeholders for the Task Force include:

• Kathleen Schloeder, Chair, Library Board of Directors
• Kyle Maier, Burke Branch Library Manager
• Renee DiPilato, Deputy Director, Alexandria Library (ex-officio)

Artist Selection Process and Concept Approval
An open call process will be used to select artists for the project.

In accordance with the Public Art Implementation Plan and Policy, the Office of the Arts, will draft a Request for Qualifications (RFQ) based on the information provided in the Project Plan. This call will be issued via an online application system (Café – callforentry.org). Interested artists/artist teams will be welcome to submit a letter of interest, qualifications, and work samples.

The Task Force will review the letters of interest and qualifications and recommend an artist for the project. The selected artist/artist team will be approved by the Commission for the Arts.

The selected artist/artist team will develop a Concept Proposal/s in collaboration with the Office of the Arts staff, consultants, and other partners. The Concept Proposal/s will include a rendering, narrative description, fabrication methods, budget and timeline. The Concept Proposal will be reviewed for feedback by the Task Force and be recommended for approval by Commission for the Arts prior to execution.

MEMORANDUM

DATE: MARCH 15, 2019

TO: ALEXANDRIA COMMISSION FOR THE ARTS

FROM: CHERYL ANNE COLTON, REGIONAL PROGRAM DIRECTOR, RECREATION, PARKS & CULTURAL ACTIVITIES, OFFICE OF THE ARTS

RE: SELECTION – POET LAUREATE, CITY OF ALEXANDRIA

Background:
In 1979, the Alexandria City Council voted Jean Elliott, as the City’s first Poet Laureate of record, who served until 1999.

The Alexandria Poet Laureate program was reestablished by the City of Alexandria in 2007 to confirm the value of the literary art and enhance the quality of life in Alexandria. Past Poet Laureates include Mary McElveen, Amy Young, Tori Lane Kovarik, Ryan Wojanowski, and most recently, Wendi Kaplan.

At the end of March 2019, Wendi Kaplan will end her 3-year term as Poet Laureate, in preparation for her replacement, a “call to the community” was sent out with an online submission deadline of January 11, 2019.

Discussion:
On January 28, the Literary Task Force reviewed the submissions and selected five finalists - KaNikki Jakarta Mix, Andrea Grenadier, Christopher Thomas, Deborah Finkelstein, and D. Ohlandt. The five finalists were interviewed on February 11. The Task Force used an evaluation form and rubric to select three candidates for an additional interview. The second set of interviews were held February 28. After the interviews, the Literary Task Force developed a recommendation for the new Poet Laureate.

The Task Force deliberations resulted in the selection of KaNikki Jakarta Mix as the City’s next Poet Laureate. Should Ms. Jakarta Mix not be able to fulfill his three-year term, the Task Force also recommends D. Ohlandt as an alternate. The Task Force suggests that the Poet Laureate consider using D. Ohlandt a resource and possibly working with her on some poetry projects.

Staff Recommendation
The Poet Laureate Task Force recommends the appointment of KaNikki Jakarta Mix as the City’s next Poet Laureate and recommends D.Ohlandt as the alternate.

The submission packets for KaNikki Jakarta Mix and D. Ohlandt are available upon request.

February 18, 2019

Dear Matthew and Members of the Alexandria Commission for the Arts,

What an amazing journey this has been. I thank you for this immense privilege of being the Poet Laureate for Alexandria.

This journey began 3 years ago in 2016 when I shared with the Alexandria Arts Commission that:

I would like to invite people into conversation, to create community by knowing each other through words, through poetry. By sharing poetry we love, by writing poetry together, by listening to each other and broadening our perspectives.

This intention quickly evolved into the theme for my tenure: Building Bridges and Creating Community.

Since I was appointed Poet Laureate:

I have done over 61 poetry readings.
I have collaborated with 6 people and groups in doing projects.
I have done over 17 workshops for people in writing poetry. Most were focused on building bridges. Others were working with kids on identity with acrostic poetry, diversity, inclusion, community, finding the light in the dark, dreams, teens and their dreams.

In addition I have acted as a judge in 12 competitions. Those include writings “For Love of Country” with the Alexandria Library, the school Reflections contests, the elementary school poets and poet laureate submissions as well as, of course, the DASHing Words In Motion contest.

I have written 8 articles for the Alexandria Gazette.

I have collaborated with amazing educators. Lynda Gallagher at Tucker elementary, Bridget Tomich at TC Williams, Suzanne Lank with ACPS and the amazing librarian, LaGina Gross, at Minnie Howard. These folks are jewels in our schools and highlight poetry in their work.

Brack Stoval, the head librarian at Duncan Library has always supported poetry and me and given me space to do readings and workshops there.

Community poets and poetry lovers have supported the work I have done and are always up to sharing: these include Ms. Doreetha of Old Town, Ms. Jane Cotton in the West End, KaNikki Jakarta and Marquis
Mix, Christopher Thomas, my Palestinian sisters Samar Najia and Zeina Azzam, Serena Wills, Renee Adams of the Poetry Fence, and many others.

Collaborators such as the musician and playwright Neal Learner, dancers Silvia Hendi, Janet Storms, Sara Lavan, Mary Jo Smet and the Choreographers Collaboration Project have been inspirations and visionaries. Nancy Belmont who does community art and interactive installations has been energizing.

There was a full circle moment for me when I wrote a poem for and addressed a crowd in Market Square in September of 2017 honoring those who had suffered and even died as a result of domestic violence where I realized that I had been instrumental, along with Dr. Carol Becker and Vola Lawson, in creating a domestic violence program in Alexandria. My work with them began in 1982, 35 years before the vigil in 2017. To be there to honor the people who have been touched by domestic violence and who work to combat it every day and to bring it to light was a great gift for me.

Thank you again for allowing me to be a voice for poetry, for inclusion, for connection in our city of Alexandria.

With heartfelt gratitude,
Wendi

RE: WATERFRONT PARK PUBLIC ART FOR 2020 AND 2021 – ARTIST SELECTION

Background:
The City of Alexandria Office of the Arts is working with Via Partnership to manage the selection of artists for Sight/See: New Views in Old Town – the public art project Waterfront Park where the city’s historic main street meets the riverfront, in the shadow of Washington D.C.’s monumental core.

The Project Task Force is: Allison Nance, Suzie Cohen, Claire Mouledoux, Clint Mansell, Tony Gammon, and Jack Browand.

In February, the Public Art Task Force interview (via conference call and web meeting) artists Olalekan Jeyifous and Mark Reigelman to review their qualifications to be considered for the creation of an original, temporary artwork Site/See 2020. Each of the artists provided a new letter of interest and conducted a 10-15 minute presentation and participated in a Q&A with the task force.

Discussion
After a thorough conversation and portfolio review, the Task Force recommends that Olalekan Jeyifous be invited for Site/See 2020 and that Mark Reigelman be invited for Site/See 2021.

Recommendations
The Task Force recommends that Olalekan Jeyifous be invited for Site/See 2020 and that Mark Reigelman be invited for Site/See 2021.

Letter of Interest - Olalekan Jeyifous
Letter of Interest – Mark Reigelman
Dear Artist Selection Committee,

I am pleased to submit this Letter of Interest for the Sight/See 2020 series at the King Street Waterfront Park in Alexandria, VA. My architecturally-inspired, public art practice explores the culture, technologies, fictions, histories and futures of cities and community spaces in both whimsical and insightful ways. This opportunity is of particular interest to me given the possibility of applying my unique artistic language to a waterfront park that will closely serve a diverse community, exemplify a range of important cultural, artistic, and professional values, and boasts a unique history.

My work has been exhibited in venues such as the Studio Museum in Harlem, the MoMA, the Vitra Design Museum, the High Museum of Art, as well as the Guggenheim in Bilbao, Spain. I have also received a number of commendations such as fellowships from the New York Foundation of the Arts, Socrates Sculpture Park, The Drawing Center, the MacDowell Colony, and grants from the New York State Council on the Arts and the Brooklyn Arts Council.

In addition to my extensive exhibition history, I have over a decade of experience in creating commissioned artwork for public agencies as well as private, governmental and institutional clients. I have created award-winning installations for Starbucks located in the Barclays Arena in Brooklyn, and their Flagship store in Chicago’s Gold Coast neighborhood. I have also completed large-scale public murals for the Opa-Locka Community Development Corporation, a 50ft-tall sculpture for the 2017 Coachella Valley Music and Arts Festival and an interactive installation for “Public Square” in Cleveland, OH. My recently completed commissions include a large banner wrap in Durham, NC as part of their SmART Vision plan to revitalize the downtown area and a series of 30 glass murals that will be installed this Spring as part of a commission with the New York City Metropolitan Transit Authority [MTA] in Brooklyn, NY. In each of these projects I carefully mined specific cultural, historical, ecological and/or the architectural vernacular of the immediate site and surrounding environs in order to then distill these investigations/observations into bold, vivid, and engaging public installations in a variety of media.

For this particular project I plan on taking this same approach to the Waterfront and Alexandria’s Old Town to create a large functional/interactive sculpture constructed of powder-coated waterjet cut aluminum or steel; both highly durable materials that are easily maintained and able to be utilized as both permanent and temporary installations. I believe a colorful, playful, interactive and/or kinetic installation that reflects the site and community’s unique history could be beautifully fitting.

Having created artwork in venues throughout the U.S at a variety of scales, I have come to prioritize public engagement and consideration for the local environment as central to the work I produce. As a trained architect, I understand the need for striking a balance between meeting the client’s goals, being able to communicate with all parties, remaining flexible to adjustments in scope, while reflecting the communities being served and demonstrating my unique artistic aesthetic.

I have a keen sense of myself as an artist and the process of public art making as a humble and noble endeavor, and I appreciate the opportunity to submit this letter your consideration.

Sincerely,

Olalekan Jeyifous
Letter of Interest:

My work reevaluates the everyday, reinvigorates gathering spaces, and challenges typical urban conditions. These interventions attempt to reorient one’s perception and inspire a renewed collective consciousness. By favoring the process of research and exploration I have a unique body of work poised between abstraction and literal representation, guided by a clear conceptual foundation and flawless synthesis within public space. This approach to site-specificity and the urban environment results in dramatic and visually compelling works of art.

Having recently finished a large-scale public art project at a waterfront park, I understand the difficulty and reward of high-quality and engaging installations in busy waterfront environments. Between tourists and locals, the waterfront experiences range widely, and public art has an opportunity to connect to each passerby in a way that amplifies their engagement and experience with the site. To maximize the impact of this experience I try to create works that encourages exploration while harmonizing with the environment in a way that is effortless and striking. To achieve this level of integration and site-specificity my process begins with meticulous research and documentation of that location; I analyze human interaction, geographic features, and civic history to reflect on ways the public interacts with their surroundings. I dissect and reorganize this information to create a conceptual map that guides the scale, location, materials, color, techniques, processes, and duration of the work. The intent is to visually communicate a narrative that reshapes aspects of a specific environment to maximize visitor engagement and interaction.

I was also drawn to this exhibition because of the inherent characteristics offered by temporary public works. Temporary installations offer a more unstifled creative atmosphere as many of the logistical restraints for permanent works are removed. For example, traditional public art methods and materials like welded steel and cast concrete can be exchanged for atypical options like woven fabric, carved wood and cast glass. Permanent works also necessitate an enduring artistic statement while temporary works allow for exploration of concepts and narratives that reflect current topics and conversations. Aside from these unique artistic opportunities there are plenty of social benefits. The ephemerality of temporary works tends to attract and encourage visitors to more regularly explore the civic spaces, expose pedestrians to a wide range of contemporary artists and creative outputs, and reinforcing the area’s reputation as an art destination.

As a site-specific artist, site research plays a crucial role in my conceptual development as enriched experiences of a site’s past, present and future are the crux of my design philosophy. Alexandria’s rich history in Old Town and geographic importance are what interests me most about the Waterfront Park project and the endless opportunities they present. It’s relevance in the Civil War, the region’s glass production in the turn of the 20th century, the adjacent Torpedo Factory production and storage of munitions, and the areas connection to the first president, George Washington, all provide interesting fodder for creative exploration.

My education and training within the disciplines of Sculpture and Industrial Design and my professional experience in collaborative and multi-disciplinary projects highlights my abilities and strengths as a public artist. The artwork submitted as part of this application further exemplifies the professionalism, mastery and excellence I bring to every permanent or temporary installation. I would be pleased for the opportunity to inject my passion and vision into the public spaces of Alexandria and King Street Waterfront Park.

Thank you for your consideration. I look forward to New Views in Old Town.

Sincerely,

Mark A. Reigelman II

MEMORANDUM

DATE: MARCH 15, 2019
TO: ALEXANDRIA COMMISSION FOR THE ARTS
FROM: DIANE RUGGIERO, DEPUTY DIRECTOR, RECREATION, PARKS & CULTURAL ACTIVITIES, OFFICE OF THE ARTS
RE: PUBLIC ART ANNUAL WORKPLAN TASK FORCE APPOINTMENT

Background:
Per the Public Art Implementation Plan:

Each year, the Public Art Program will adopt an Annual Workplan. The Workplan outlines which new projects the program will initiate, indicating where the projects are located, and what the proposed budgets will be. The Workplan takes a multiyear view, in that it indicates which projects are being carried over from previous year, and identifies three years into the future what goals and projects should be considered, even though future-year projections are subject to change. This three-year projection would mirror the City’s internal “business plan” process.

The Workplan is prepared by staff in collaboration with a Workplan Task Force, reviewed by the Commission for the Arts, and approved by City Council as part of the budget process. The process of developing, approving and implementing the Workplan is analogous to basic approach to approving and implementing other components of the City’s Capital Improvement Program.

Meetings of the Annual Workplan Task Force and the Commission for the Arts at which the workplans are reviewed and recommended for inclusion in the City’s Capital Budget are open to the public and to public comment.

Prior to the convening of the Task Force, the Public Art Program should hold an annual open house at which recently completed projects and projects in development are presented in an informal manner, and during which members of the community can discuss their own ideas and priorities for public art.

Roles & Responsibilities:

The Commission for the Arts will form an Annual Workplan Task Force that convenes for a limited time each year to collaborate with the staff on the development of the Public Art Program’s Annual Workplan.

The Task Force should consist of seven members. Up to two members should be drawn from the Commission for the Arts, including a member of the Commission’s executive committee; at least three members shall have professional expertise in visual art as a visual artist, arts administrator or curator; and at least one member should have professional expertise in a field of environmental design, such as urban design, city planning, architecture or landscape architecture. To the extent possible, members should be drawn from all geographic areas of the city. In order to achieve the proper balance of skill sets with a limited number of members, some Task Force members may be counted in more than one category.

The Office for the Arts will develop an application process and the Commission for the Arts will select Task Force members from the pool of qualified applicants. Members of the Task Force will serve until that year’s Workplan is complete, and must reapply and be reappointed to serve on a future Workplan Task Force. The Commission may remove a Task Force member who fails to participate in the Task Force’s work.
The Task Force will:

- Review and assess opportunities for public art projects in the coming year.
- Advise staff on priority projects for funding and staff resources in the upcoming fiscal year and on potential projects for the next two subsequent fiscal years
- Report to the Commission on its activities on a monthly basis
- Support the presentation of the Workplan to the Commission

Discussion

The Arts Commission will appoint two Commissioners to the Task Force. As additional members, the Office of the Arts proposes:

Community Stakeholders

Mellenie Runion
Mellenie is a member of the City of Alexandria’s Beautification Commission and the owner of Truly-Life, an eco-friendly skin care and garden operated in Alexandria. Mellenie is also an experienced marketing, branding, and graphic design professional.

Staff recommends appointment of the above Community Stakeholder to the 2019 Public Art Annual Workplan Task Force.

| Once a project has been initiated, the Arts Commission establishes a Public Art Project Task Force specifically for that project.
Office of the Arts staff, with input from the Project Task Force, develops a Public Art Project Plan. This plan includes goals, location, timeline and budget; the artist selection process and community engagement process; and a list of internal and external stakeholders for the project.
The Project Plan is approved by the Arts Commission. |

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Developing the Artist Pool</th>
<th>DESCRIPTION</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Based upon the approved Project Plan, the Office of the Arts develops a pool of artists and collects qualifications for the Project Task Force to review.
The pool of artists can be collected through an open competition, pre-qualified artist list, curatorial process or invitational.
Artist qualifications generally include a cover letter from the artist expressing their interest in the project, a resume, and examples from the artist’s portfolio with a corresponding description of each project. |

<th>Selecting the Finalists</th>

| The Project Task Force reviews artist qualifications based on criteria outlined in the approved Project Plan.
Depending on the process in the approved Project Plan, the Project Task Force can select a single artist based upon qualifications, or a small number of finalists (generally three to five). |

| If finalists are selected, they may be:
- Paid a stipend to develop a concept proposal and present that proposal to the Project Task Force.
- Interviewed by the Project Task Force.
- A combination of the above.
The Project Task Force recommends selection of an artist to the Arts Commission based upon the Concept Proposal and/or interview. |

| The selected artist develops a Concept Proposal, if that was not a part of the artist selection phase.
The Office of the Arts facilitates community engagement conducted by the artist as part of their process of developing a Concept Proposal.
The Project Task Force reviews the Concept Proposal and recommends it to the Arts Commission for approval. |

ACA Motion

Motion:

Discussion notes:
(continue on other side of page if necessary)
Engage & Collaborate

In order to enhance Alexandria as an arts destination, we value collaboration and engagement, including all corners of the city, while expanding our outreach to the global arts community.

Inclusivity

Definition: intentional, ongoing effort to ensure that diverse individuals fully participate, including decision making.

Goal Statement: continue to broaden our understanding and implementation of inclusivity

Next step: form an inclusivity committee

Success looks like:
- ACA is exposed to diverse perspectives and backgrounds
- Be aware of what an inclusive mindset looks like
- Public art: expectation that access/inclusion/diversity is a part of all public art task forces
- Public art: be aware of demographic that will be exposed/benefit from the public art
- Grants: are grant criterias accurately asking and evaluating the organizations’ inclusivity

Challenges:
- We don’t have final say in selection of commissioners
- We don’t always have a say in who applies for public art and grants

Innovative
Integrate art, technology, and the unique history of Alexandria to create a compelling experience. This year, focus on prioritizing this in the work plan.

Use the work plan process as a way to set the stage for integrating HAT into future projects

Art + technology + history = HAT!
- How to use current tech to create something new
- Messaging historical inspiration
- Engaging new demographics
- forward-thinking

Challenges:
Communication

Steps: discuss with staff; make this a priority in our projects; bring in the consultants involved in the work plan.

Success: we will have examples to point to.

Educate

Value description: Growing ourselves and our knowledge as leaders and artists and transferring that knowledge to our stakeholders (community and influencers and decision-makers)

Goal/Success Measure: The Commission will participate in at least one professional development (PD) activity this calendar year and develop an educational briefing that commissioners are comfortable giving to stakeholders

Challenges:
- Scheduling
- Commissioner comfort level with public presentations
- How to handle questions from stakeholders
- Time management
- Down selecting topics for a streamlined (5-6 slide) presentation

Additional Ideas discussed to further this specific goal or the Educate value more broadly:
• Timing is critical. If we engage Americans for the Arts (or other) to develop us further on grants, let’s do so with the grant cycle in mind. This is a good example of the value of having the ACA calendar
• Consider field trips to enhance our knowledge as commissioners
• Educate ourselves on what RPCA priorities align to our goals
• Importance of council member connections
• Look for additional City activities that the Commission could become embedded in (e.g. Planning Commission) that impact ACA work. For example, when are Small Area Plans emerging and what does ACA need to do to ensure its role on the SAPs
• ACA briefings could be targeted at Civic Associations, Arts Alliance, Agenda Alexandria (previous example), City Council, City Manager
• Pursue opportunities with Business Associations through the Creative Partnership Grant
• Training/education opportunities with the Office of the Arts should be considered, better understood
