

ECO-CITY ACADEMY

Training Program for Eco-City Ambassadors

Who are Eco-City Ambassadors?

- Eco-City Ambassadors are empowered residents who have been trained through the Eco-City Academy on sustainability practices applicable to Alexandria.
- The training will focus on the City's Environmental Action Plan (EAP), i.e., sustainability actions that the City commits to and staff who are working to complete these actions. Participants also learn about individual actions residents and businesses can take.

What does an Eco-City Ambassador do?

- Be an early adopter of different sustainability actions and measure the success
- Network successes and challenges with the Sustainability Coordinator and other Eco-City ambassadors at regular intervals (a few times a year)
- Participate in site visits (e.g., solar panel installations, green buildings, stormwater and stream restoration areas)
- Commit time to promote sustainability practices within your home, community and workplace

Who will facilitate the Eco-City Academy?

- The Eco-City Academy program will be facilitated by the City's Office of Environmental Quality with participation from other City staff working on sustainability issues.

For more information?

- Please contact Ellen Eggerton, Sustainability Coordinator, at (703) 746-4184 or by email at Ellen.Eggerton@alexandriava.gov.