Tips for Using This Directory

- Honestly evaluate the condition of the items you wish to donate - these organizations spend a lot of money disposing of items that should have probably been recycled or disposed of in the first place.
- Call or visit the organization's website for additional information on what they will or will not accept.
- Follow the specific instructions provided to ensure that the items you intend to donate will be reused, rather than discarded.
- Drop off items during normal business hours, or appointed time agreed upon.
- Contact a bulk hauler to recycle or dispose of your large items if they are not fit for reuse:
